Mrs. A. B. Frasch Receives Injury from Runaway

Mrs. A. B. Frasch and little daughter were driving into town eggs, in a surrey, when by some on Saturday with cream and means the surrey suddenly collapsed, smashing the rig and throwing Mrs. Frasch and the little girl violently to the ground. The accident happened just as they reached the butte. Messrs G. Wrigglesworth and H. Pearson were coming along some distance behind and saw that something serious had happened and quickly drove to the scene of the accident. They found Mrs. Frasch lying in the ditch with a wound in the back of the head in a dazed condition and one of them immediately drove into town and took out Dr. Evans who had the injured woman immediately conveyed to the Didsbury General Hospital. The little girl did not seem to have suffered to any great extent, the cream and eggs were of course badly scrambled.

Another Good Crop

A party of business men were taken out to Mr. Wilson's farm (the old Boettger place) about four miles southwest of town on Friday last to see a unique exhibition of new farm machinery. The outfit consisted of an ensilage cutter run by gasoline power, a sunflower binder and an 8 ft. grain binder, all Massey-Harris machines. The two binders were kept pretty busy supplying sunflowers and green oats to the hungry maw of the big ensilage cutter which grinds up 100 tons a day and elevates the ground feed to the top of the large silo. Two feeders are constantly on the job supplying the raw material and they are kept as busy as the proverbial monkey with fleas. All these machines were sold by G. A. Wrigglesworth, the local Massey-Harris agent, who states that his business in machinery is much better than he expected this year. The Titan tractor belonged to Roy Lantz, the ensilage cutter to Ed. Schmidt, and the corn and grain binders to L. L. Crowell and as stated all the machines were brand new and were working like clock-work.

A word about the crop on Mr. Wilson's farm would not be out of place here. His sunflowers stand from six to eight feet high and the foliage is very heavy, while his green oats are about three feet and also are very heavy. His ripe grain did not come up thick but it carries some extraordinary good grain, the heads and kernels being large and plump and of exceedingly good color. Altogether Mr. Wilson sees no reason for pessimism over this year's yield of all kinds and is feeling very optimistic about the future threshing.

The Public Suffers And Pays

A newspaper despatch from Detroit on August 27 reported Henry Ford as saying that, as a result of the coal shortage caused by the strike of the miners, 100,000 employees in the Ford Motor Company throughout the United States would be thrown out of employment on September 15, and that in addition several hundred thousand other workers employed in industries furnishing materials for the Ford plants would be caused into idleness. In other words, the means of livelihood of between one and two million people would be cut off.

These hundreds of thousands of men and their families are to suffer through no act of their own, nor because of any dispute with their employers—because it is well-known that the Ford employees are well paid and well treated—but solely because of a labor conflict between the coal operators and the miners, and the attempt being made to settle the differences of opinion by the waging of an industrial war, instead of endeavoring to reach an amicable settlement through an arbitration conference.

Why should these people be made the innocent victims of the unreasonableness and greed of others? Is our boasted civilization such a poor thing that leaders in public life, in finance and industry, and in the direction of organized labor, cannot devise any better method of settling their disputes than by a resort to war? Are these leaders so devoid of common sense and intelligence, or lacking in an appreciation of what constitutes right and justice, that they are ready and willing to inflict loss and suffering upon hundreds of thousands of absolutely innocent men, women and children? In their refusal to see any side in the questions confronting them but that in which is bound up their own selfish interests, they are surely guilty of a criminal intent for attempting many acts provokable by severe penalties under the law.

The coal strikes in the Canadian Maritime Provinces and in Western Canada have been settled and the miners have returned to work, but only after enormous and quite unnecessary losses have been inflicted upon both parties to the dispute, which might just as well, and ought to have been, settled by conferences before the strikes took place instead of after the strikes. Miners and mine owners alike have lost money, the public taxpayer has been put to heavy and unwarranted expense—all at which the public must, in the final analysis, pay.

And now, with what is generally admitted to be the second year's grain crop in the history of the Dominion to be transported by rail and lost to the merchants of the world just because of a more or less transportation system will likewise be called upon to handle an enormous volume of coal traffic in order to fill up empty coal sheds, and thus which ought to have been handled during the slack months in grain movement. Instead of our transportation system being enabled to spread the freight movement over a long period, they must cope with two peak loads at one and the same time.

Just what this means in order how cannot accurately be estimated, but anyone at all familiar with the subject knows that the loss will be considerable because the business must be carried on in the most expensive method of in the least expensive way. So, here again the public must pay. The loss falls upon them. This is clearly revealed in present and prospective coal prices and also in the warnings being issued as to the probable difficulty of obtaining adequate supplies of coal when they are needed.

After altogether from any question as to whether the miners or the mine owners are primarily responsible for these huge losses and inconvenience to the public, there is the much greater issue of the rights of people generally. Politicians must stop passing resolutions and abandon their attitude of timidity in dealing with the two opposing forces of Capital and Labor. Each is a great force and power in the nation. Each is essential to the well-being and prosperity of the country. Neither can get along without the other. But great and important as they are, there is a still greater force and power and one which constitutes a much more vital factor in the commonwealth—that is the whole people, in other words, the nation itself.

Politicians, instead of trying to gain the support of this particular group or that, or rather endeavoring not to antagonize either, must take a decided stand and tell that this mutual strike nonsense must cease, and that labor disputes must be settled in a sane and intelligent manner through processes similar to those provided by courts of law for the settlement of all other civil disputes.

British Capital May Open Branch Plants

Manufacturers Eager to Have Goods
Produced in Canada

F. W. Field, British Trade Commissioner, who returned to Toronto after two months in England studying trade conditions there, states that there is every cause for optimism. Generally speaking, he said, the outlook was brighter than it was a year ago, and there was a better feeling among the business men of Britain.

One of the most important features, said Mr. Field, was that hundreds of representatives of British businesses were at present travelling about the world seeking markets and investigating conditions. Many of these men, he said, would visit Canada, where their capital was again beginning to seek an outlet.

British manufacturers, he explained, were anxious to enter into co-operative relations with Canadian factories and distributors. Not only so, they eager to place their money in Canadian enterprises, but they were also seeking to make arrangements for the manufacturing under joint directorships, or their products in Canadian factories already established.

While it was true that British capital, in many instances, contemplated investment in Canada through the establishment of branch plants, the general tendency was to make use of the manufacturing facilities already established in Canada for the production of their goods.

How They Do It In Europe

Revert to Barter System to Overcome Exchange Problem

Barter, or the exchange of goods, as against the transfer of actual cash has figured in recent international trade, according to the Geneva correspondence of the London Observer. In this way the difficulties of exchange have been a chronic.

Rumania wanted a loan of 150,000,000 gold francs from Switzerland. The Swiss said it was impossible unless they knew how the money was to be spent. Rumania replied: "We need to replenish railroad rolling stock, particularly engines."

"Fine," said the Swiss bankers, "we have these for sale. Take them, and pay for them in cereals and petroleum, both of which you produce and we need." Thus were the arrangements completed.

Similar bartering and paying by barter also has taken place with Czechoslovakia. Here, again, Czechoslovakia is receiving Swiss manufactured goods and is to pay for them with truck loads of cereals. Thereupon, the question of exchange and the comparative values of the Czechoslovakian krone and the Swiss franc does not arise.

Finish Sheep and Hogs on Cleanings
Of Western Elevators

A Vancouver syndicate is being organized to finish sheep and hogs on cleanings of western elevators. These cleanings contain a large percentage of noxious weeds, which still make good fattening for wool. The danger in selling promiscuously is that the seeds might become scattered and create a noxious weed danger. The plan is to concentrate the flock in feed centres where no danger of spread of noxious weeds could exist. The plan is receiving very serious consideration by elevator and packing plant men.

Battleford Press: Last week a local farmer received his returns for a cow he had shipped to Winnipeg. The animal weighed 850 pounds, and for same he received the munificent sum of two cents per pound, or $17.00 gross. Expenses amounted to $7.31 leaving him $9.69 for his cow, about the price of a good pair of shoes. Oh, no! it wasn't a case of robbery by the consignees, for the animal was sold to the United Grain Growers.

But that isn't the worst we can cite. Another local farmer shipped a three-year old steer the other day to the same company. It weighed 950 pounds, and he scored one cent per pound. That steer which took three years to raise netted said farmer the exact sum of 97 cts.

Now, here is another side of the picture. In the same car with the 97-cent animal was another steer which weighed 1340 pounds but which netted the owner the handsome sum of $87.

Ottawa, Sept.—"Every forest fire that broke out within fifty miles of the Canadian National lines this summer stole away some of the immediate or potential traffic and delayed to that degree the financial buoyancy of the public owned system," stated C. Price Green, Chief Commissioner of Industries and Resources of the Canadian National Railways in an interview today.

"A large mileage of the Canadian National runs through natural timber growing lands which can never produce any other marketable crop than timber. At the same time, those wooded regions are generators of tourist traffic and account for the rapidly expanding number of visitors from the United States travelling on our lines, as well as for the great volume of recreational travel on the part of Canadians. The security of the forests, therefore, is absolutely vital to the solvency of any railway system in this Dominion.

"The destruction of forests by fire this year was not the work of the railways, as government reports will prove, but of fishermen, campers, settlers, and woods travellers generally. It is the careless citizen, himself a shareholder in the Canadian National, who can wreck or maintain these forests resources so essential to our national prosperity and the successful operation of the public-owned railway system."

"The use of automatic, swivel, or machine guns, or battery, or any gun larger than No. 10 gauge is prohibited, and the use of any aeroplane, power boat, sail boat or night light, and shooting from any horse-drawn or motor vehicle is forbidden.

Clause 9a of the Alberta Game Act emphasizes the latter clause

as follows:—

No person shall at any time carry a loaded shot gun or rifle in or on or discharge same from a carriage, rig, wagon, car, hayrack, sleigh, automobile, or other vehicle upon a public highway.

The open season for ducks and geese are from September 1 to December 14th. Duck limit—30 in one day, and not more than 200 of all kinds in one season. Geese—15.

For chicken and partridge from October 15 to October 31. Chicken limit—10 per day and 50 in season.

For Hungarian partridge October 1 to October 31. Limit—10 per day, 50 in season.

The cutting of wheat has been finished in Alberta and threshing is under way in a number of districts, but will not be general for about a week. Oats have been harvested to the extent of about 50 per cent. Rye threshing is practically complete. This crop has not yielded quite as heavy as was anticipated at the time of cutting.

Railway News

Montreal.—The Canadian Pacific line announces several appointments in the British Isles and Europe. They are as follows: William Stewart, to be Glasgow passenger agent, with his office at 27 Bothwell Street, Glasgow; J. H. Webb, destined for the post of passenger agent at Southampton, and A. E. Rawlinson, slated for Antwerp, where he will take charge of the passenger offices.

Sudbury.—Tuesday, August 8th, was the dawn of a new day in Northern Ontario railroading, when between seventy-five and eighty officers and employees of the C. P. R. gathered in Sudbury and organized what will be known as the Algoma District Employees' Association of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Every branch of the service, from general superintendent down, was represented. The object of the new association is to meet at regular intervals to discuss all subjects vital to the better serving of the public, and thereby be of greater service to Canada, and naturally, the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Barf.—The American Bar Association, traveling east from its recent convention at San Francisco, spent two days in the Canadian Rockies. The party travelled over special trains over the Canadian Pacific and Soo Line to Chicago, where it disbanded.

Several notable citizens of the United States were among the party, there being Vice-President Coolidge, his wife and two sons; John W. Davis, former ambassador to Great Britain; and John W. Whitman, former governor of New York State. The party expressed delight at the wonderful grandeur of Barf and Lake Louise, where two days were spent.

Montreal.—Despite warnings and the efforts of the railways to prevent them, accidents are occurring at railway crossings. If automobile drivers were a little more cautious they would save themselves a great deal of trouble and save their cars from a great deal of damage. Of course there are some cases where it is difficult to avoid accidents, but most accidents that happen are avoidable. Particulars have just come to hand of an occurrence in New Brunswick:

An Ontario automobile, License 12717 N. B., owned by F. L. Jones, of Perth Junction, and driven by R. Anderson, also of Perth Junction, ran into C. P. R. train No. 152 at the crossing just north of Anderson Bridge, N.B. The engine had already passed over the crossing and the auto struck the side of the tender. Mr. Anderson claimed that he did not see or hear the train in time to stop, although his car was going very slowly. The car was considerably damaged, but happily nobody was hurt.

Quebec.—All records were broken at the Chateau Frontenac recently, the hotel being filled to capacity and not a single room being vacant. Many of the passengers who arrived from New York City had to remain on board the steamer for lack of room at the hotel. Tourists from all parts of the States and Canada arrived by motor and the parking ground in front of the Chateau was lined with rows and rows of cars. The lobby of the hotel was crowded with visitors anxiously waiting for accommodation and in the evening the crowd was greater than ever. The new wing of the Chateau when completed, will undoubtedly be a boon to the city as the additional accommodation thus obtained will satisfy the large demand made on the hotel. With the onset of the August tourist traffic conditions in Quebec were taken on a new aspect, which has necessitated an extension in the service of the traffic policemen.

Pembroke.—The Canadian Forestry Association's Forest Products Exhibit Car came to Pembroke on the civil holiday, under the management of Mr. Gerald Ryth, assistant secretary of the association, and was visited at its berth in the Canadian Pacific Railway station yard by a large number of interested citizens. The exhibit car contains many novel and interesting models calculated to demonstrate the correct and incorrect method of logging, the result of deforesting the hills, and what happens when sawmills are neglected or burning matches are carelessly thrown away in the dry woods.

One exhibit showing ladies' blouses, stockings and other silk wear made from cellulose pulp attracted considerable attention, and another which interested the visitors greatly showed the various stages in the making of matches. A sign over the latter exhibit pointed out that one tree will make a million matches, but that one match can destroy a million trees. Perhaps the most interesting and attractive model on the car is a large model of a heavily timbered country and a small inset close by. When a lever is turned there is a complete transformation. The light goes out and by an arrangement of screens the forest and town are seen to be destroyed. This model cost about $1,000 to construct. Another model shows how deforestation causes rivers to flood in spring and dry up in the summer. There is a sprinkling arrangement attached to this.

Mail Was Important

Liner Stopped in Mid-Ocean to Take Love Letter

The lookout in the United States liner, President Taft, in mid-ocean on the way to New York with mail and passengers, sighted a Portuguese lugger flying distress signals. The liner's course was immediately altered and amid tremendous excitement among the passengers the ship saved a boat with a doctor, a supply of food and everything requisite for immediate relief. The boat's crew pulled up the liner, and finally came alongside the Portuguese vessel to be greeted at the side by a smiling Portuguese captain, who said he felt sure the Americans would not mind taking two letters, one to his cousin in New York, and one to the mate's American fiancée.

Ex-Sergeant's Hard Luck

Escaped Injury During War, Now Paralyzed From Exposure

Queen Mary's sympathy for those broken in the war was again shown by her purchase of a beautiful four-panel screen from ex-sergeant Ellis of Falmouth. The screen, which measured 6 ft. by 2 1/2 ft., and is the result of really good taste and artistic devotion, was delivered at Buckingham Palace recently.

Mr. Ellis is a native of Kilmarlock, and was, in brighter days, an accountant. He was a good footballer and played centre (right end) for Cardiff Corinthians.

Ellis' fate has been strangely ironical as well as hard. Enlisting in the Gordon Highlanders in August, 1914, he fought at the Marne, Loos, Neuve Chapelle, Hill 60, Verdun, Cambrai, St. Quentin and Ypres. It was his strange luck to come through all these bloody struggles without a scratch, and only a few days before the armistice to fall ill from exposure. He is now paralyzed from the waist downwards and only the ruin of a once limber.

A Prime Dressing for Wounds.—In some factories and workrooms carbolic acid is kept for use in emergency wounds and cuts sustained by the workmen. But better to keep on hand a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. It is just as quick in action and does not scar the skin or burn the flesh.

Ten Cars of Nickel

During the week ending August 6th, no less than ten cars of nickel matte were shipped from the plant of the International Nickel Company, at Copper Cliff, near Sudbury, and it is expected that the renewed demand will result in the blowing in of at least two furnaces within the next few weeks.

CATARRAHAL DEAFNESS

Is greatly relieved by constitutional treatment. CATARRHAL DEAFNESS is a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running nose or imperfect hearing, and when restored to normal condition is the result. Catarrhal deafness can be relieved, your hearing restored, and your health improved. TADSHI MEDICINE, a famous remedy, is the only medicine that cures catarrhal deafness by restoring normal conditions.

Threshermen Must Display Card

Comply With Requirements in Reference to Noxious Weed Act in Saskatchewan

Threshermen should take notice, states Mr. M. P. Tullis, Field Crops Commissioner in the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture, that they are still required to display a card containing the provisions of Section 23 The Noxious Weeds Act, in a prominent place upon the threshing machine all the time that it is in operation.

Some confusion appears to have arisen over the fact that The Threshers' Lien Act was amended at the recent session striking out of Section 2 the words "who has complied with the provisions of the Noxious Weeds Act." This section of the Threshers' Lien Act covers those who have a lien upon grain threshed for the purpose of securing payment for threshing. This amendment has no bearing upon the application of Section 23 of The Noxious Weeds Act, which is still in full force and effect. Threshermen therefore are advised to procure with out delay the necessary card from the Field Crops Branch, Department of Agriculture, Regina, and affix it to their machines.

This is a new high record so far in the history of gold mining in Ontario, and is an increase of $1,000,000 over the June production. With the exception of the Kirkland Lake Proprietary all mills were operated at full capacity, and handled an aggregate of approximately 175,000 tons of ore.
